

Mans Zelmerlow, Impossible

These are the days when I can't forgive myself
Seeing those pictures of you with someone else.
Wish you were here to turn darkness into light
If you were here tonight.

I find a million ways to say I love you
Sing a million songs to make you smile.
But I can't turn back time
And I can't make you my.
It's impossible.

Don't ever think that I'm proud of what I've done
What we had in common, now it's gone.
I find a million ways to say I love you
Sing a million songs to make you smile
But I can't turn back time
And I can't make you my.

It's impossible
It's impossible to bring it back
And even if I try to turn your heart
It's impossible to turn back time
It's impossible to even think that you will look my way
I know I only have myself to blame
I could try but I still can't make you my.
I find a million ways to say I love you
Sing a million songs to make you smile
But I can't turn back time
And I can't make you my!
It's impossible.

It's impossible to bring it back
And even if I try to turn your heart
It's impossible to turn back time
It's impossible to even think that you will look my way
I know I only have myself to blame
I could try but I still can't make you my.
Can't make you my...
Can't make you my...
I could try but I still can't make you my.
