Marilyn Manson, White Knuckles

Smack dab flat on my back Solid ground beginning to crack I pulled her down and down and down I lost my breath I thought I'd drown

Fistfuls of you Fistfuls of you

You pulled me through with white knuckles

Fistfuls of you Fistfuls of you

You pulled me through with white knuckles

Her leg my hand a smoldering brand

Sticking to her wet, body like sand

Her place distaste we fell from grace

Red smears across our face

Fistfuls of you

Fistfuls of you

Fistfuls of you

You pulled me through with white knuckles

Fistfuls of you Fistfuls of you

You pulled me through with white knuckles

White knuckles

White knuckles

White knuckles

White knuckles
