

Marty Robbins, Confused And Lonely

If this world should tumble down
And we'd go spinning all around
Find ourselves somewhere in space
I wonder if I'd find my place
Would be beside you or would I be here
Like I am, confused and lonely

If this world should disappear
And then another world appear
Is there the possibility that you
Would still be here with me
Or would I be lonely and unchanged
Like I am, confused and lonely

You make love but still you never
Make love with your heart
Though we're close together
Still I know we're worlds apart
Pleasin' you beacme the most Important thing to do
But bein' mixed up, I don't know
What really pleases you

Completed love's a special thing
It has to have a special ring
It means that two are satisfied
I failed, but Heaven knows I tried
You put a wall between us keepin' me
Like I am, confused and lonely

Lonely
Lonely