

Matchbook Romance, I Wish I Could Leave

I'm old and got that same old feeling back again

you keep coming back to me it seems there's no escape (i've got this god damn feeling from day to day)

now i'm going to follow the world and i don't know if i care anymore

i wish that i could leave this town and go somewhere you're not around.
yeah yeah, oh yeah

i wish i could leave this town and go somewhere, where you're not around yeah yeah, oh yeah

now looking back on the time we spent over that move this year i drunk at when we met oh how i got so far and your hand does not regret but a different way of looking at it i should have left alone i want you home and let the stress out

and go somewhere you're not around
