

Matchbook Romance, Stay Tonight

49 hours and 46 minutes to go but who's counting?
I just thought I'd let you know I filled my head with your voice and now I'm drowning well I wrote this song for you

You can stay tonight and make everything alright
You can hold me down and tell me that you're right
Tell me what's it like to be alone...

And we had this down...unlike everybody well I'll spend a million nights just like tonight
You know I screamed your name at the sky until I lost my voice well I'd give my life for you

You can stay tonight and make everything alright
You can hold me down and tell me that you're right
tell me what's it like to be alone

(Let's go)

(You can Stay Tonight...)

You can stay tonight and make everything alright
You can hold me down and tell me that you're right
Tell me what's it like to be...
You can stay tonight (You can stay Tonight)
Make everything alright (Everything) Cause I'm alright (If you'd stay tonight)
You can hold me down and tell me that you're right
Tell me what's it like... to be alone