

Matt Dusk, Windows

I remember it like yesterday
When you moved in around my way
I didn't even know your name
I knew life would never be the same
I see you from across the street
Just hoping that our eyes would meet
The picture of you makes my day
Just like Mona Lisa in her frame
You'll be standing in your window
Like you always do
Sometimes looking sad
Sometimes looking blue
I'd see you every morning
Wish I was with you
Standing in your window too
I often wonder who you are
As I gaze upon you from afar
Just like a siren from the sea
You sing a song that's calling me
Won't you just let down your golden hair
And let me take you far from here
Treat you like a fairytale princess
I'd offer you my tenderness
But you're standing in your window
Like you always do
Sometimes looking sad
Sometimes looking blue
I'd see you every morning
Wish I was with you
Standing in your window too
I'd keep holding on, holding on
To the vision of being with you
I'd keep holding on, holding strong
To the hope it might one day come true,
It might one day come true
Treat you like a fairytale princess
I'd offer you my tenderness
But we never meet so I guess
I'll see you standing in your window
Like you always do
Sometimes looking sad
Sometimes looking blue
I'd see you every morning
Wish I was with you
Standing in your window,
Standing in your window
Like you always do
Sometimes looking sad
Sometimes looking so blue
See you every morning wish I was with you
Standing in your window too
Baby if you only knew
I'd be standing in your window too.
