

Matt Wertz, Behind This Moment

See I don't know what I should do now,
And I've exhausted all the know how.
Still all of my efforts, they fail me,
Leaving me broken and empty.

I can't go on
Half living this life on my own.
Cause I'm hiding behind this smile.
No I haven't come out for a while.
See there is this place so empty inside me,
And I'm hiding behind this smile.

There must be some place warmer than here,
Cause my teeth chatter and I live in fear.
But every attempt I attempt just impales me;
Leaving me broken and empty.

I can't go on,
Half living this life on my own.
Cause I'm hiding behind this smile.
No haven't come out for a while.
See there is this place so empty inside me,
I keep hiding behind this smile.

Cause no I'm not okay. yeahh.
No I'm not alright. yeahhh.

Cause I'm hiding behind this smile.
No haven't come out for a while.
See there is this place so empty inside me,
I keep hiding behind this smile.

See there is this place so empty inside me.
I keep hiding behind this smile.
Hiding behind this smile.
Hiding behind this smile.
