

Maxeen, Delete Lola

it was the signs
on your face
that i never could see its was the fact
i forgot
some kind of anniversary At the phone
you would wait
but i never would call
it's the thought that never counted
cause there's no thought at all Distress codes sent for a rescue to relieve me of the boredom that i'm feeling with you in a daydream i'd compute the first day we would meet and simply press delete Because i just don't care
so give it a break
i just don't care
so i made a mistake
i just don't care
and there's one thing to do
it's ture
i need to get ride of you no matter what i try i never get through my random acts od kindness you'd just misconstrue
i guess it comes down to a lack of trust
a heart that used to work has since been covered with dust in the shadows of the year you know i never could tell if i had feelings for you or i was under some spell and now the only kiss i can justify is a kiss goodbye
i just don't care
i just don't care
it's ture
i need to get rid of you
