

Meja, Lay Me Down

I get so weary sometimes
Of all the pain and the sorrow
There's too much on my mind
Where will the world be tomorrow

I can't sleep when I feel this tired
Funny how frustration breeds desire

Lay me down like a river tonight
Rush into me, rush into the sea
Lay me down in the naked moonlight
Quiet the currents that run inside of me
Lay me down, lay me down, lay me down

I held back for so long
Longer than anyone thought I could
In you I finally found
Somebody weird, somebody good

I didn't dare dream love could exist
I was scared to taste that deep kiss

Lay me down.....

I can't sleep when I feel this tired
Funny how frustration breeds desire

Lay me down.....

Lay me down, lay me down.
