

Mel Tillis, What's The Use In Just Me Trying

I tried so hard to make you love me and all alone your love's been dying
I'll let you go because there's nothing I can do what's the use in just me trying I'd give the world just to hold you if you could say you love me without lying
I know there's no chance for us to ever love again what's the use in just me trying

Goodbye may God will walk with you I'll still love you when I'll lay dying
My world will end with the closing of the door what's the use in just me trying [steel]
I'd give the world...
What's the use in just me trying
