

Melanie C, Here And Now

I walked the line, so carefully

I took my time I wondered

The here and now, what matters now

No looking back, that's over

I don't know what tomorrow brings

The sun may shine, the world come tumbling down

I don't care what we're lonely for

But I'm sure of the here and now

I stood alone, the only one

I didn't know, I was waiting

For liberty, to feel like me

And now I'm here, I'm not willing to change

I don't know what tomorrow brings

The sun may shine, the world come tumbling down

I don't care what we're lonely for

But I'm sure of the here and now

The here and now

The here and now

If you choose, we wonder

I'm here with you

The air is cold

No more to do

I don't know what tomorrow brings

The sun may shine, the world come tumbling down

I don't care what we're lonely for

But I'm sure of the here and now

The here and now

I don't know what tomorrow brings

The sun may shine, the world come tumbling down

I don't care what we're lonely for

But I'm sure of the here and now

The here and now

The here and now
