

Melanie Garside, One For Now

once in a while you've got to take a little time to get out of here turn another corner and i never know i'm going to see you there sometimes in sun i catch the light upon your eyes i watch your face come a little closer i can disappear and go without a trace get off take off get off

scurry after dreams i never thought i had and now i've left them there crossing all the circles in the squares i've got to get me out this mess roll another throw and then i'm tripping up around these walls i guess
get off take off get off

breathe this night i'm going to get away with you take a breath and feel the moon breathing through you once in a while you've got to take a little time to get out of here flying to the moon it can be tiring but i love it dear watching the reflection in the water and i know i see your face ripple up the water and you disappear and go without a trace so get off take off
get off take off get off
once in a while you've got to take a little time to get out of here
