Melinda Doolittle, Home Song

When I think of home I think of a place where theres love overflowing I wish I was home I wish I was back there with the things I been knowing Wind that makes the tall trees bend into leaning Suddenly the snowflakes that fall have a meaning Sprinklin the scene, makes it all clean Maybe theres a chance for me to go back there Now that I have some direction It would sure be nice to be back home Where theres love and affection And just maybe I can convince time to slow up Giving me enough time in my life to grow up Time be my friend, let me start again Suddenly my world has changed its face But I still know where Im going I have had my mind spun around in space And yet Ive watched it growing If youre listning god Please dont make it hard to know If we should believe in the things that we see Tell us, should we run away Should we try and stay Or would it be better just to let things be? Living here, in this brand new world Might be a fantasy But it taught me to love So its real, real to me And Ive learned That we must look inside our hearts To find a world full of love Like yours Like me Like home...
