

Melissa Dori Dye, I'd Lick Your Scars

in my mind i see you again so many pieces, none belong i'd lick your scars i've make you love i love who you are

why the need to touch me
don't you have a home
you don't love anything
so go be free

in my life i've found you again only to dream of you

i'd lick your scars
i'd make you love
