

Melissa Dori Dye, Love Is

and i faint for a minute yeah as i close my eyes and i think for a minute yeah touch me, am i dead or alive and are you just a picture painted in my mind you haunt the walls here i try to let go but i can't without knowing our worlds made up of something real and if you feel with me a minute i might tell you why and if i ask god to give me the strength, well he might and i just deal with it, deal with it this world is only real as we want it to be how did we get so far and lost we are a mess but i want us and no matter what in the end i will be in love with you real love with you

hey that's what love is, love is what are you fighting me for?
and if you let go then i will just let go i can do that, can you?
what are you hurting me for?
and if i ask you then you have to let go more i can do that, will you?

i try to hold on but i can't without knowing our worlds made up of something real

and i think for a minute yeah am i dead or alive? yeah touch me hey if love's an illusion painted in the skies why haunt the walls here?

how did i get i so far and lost?
god will you lift us as we fall?
how do i heal when i'm this gone?
you left me here and at what cost?

i try to hold on but i won't without knowing our worlds made up of something real i wanna hold on but i can't without knowing our worlds made up of something real faint for a minute yeah as i close my eyes and i think for a minute yeah touch me are you just a picture painted in my mind you haunt the walls here
