

Melissa Dori Dye, Morning After

nother day fades away
listen to it
break me off a new beginning i flow to the morning after

nother day fades away
listen to it
break me off a new beginning
i flow to the morning after

before tomorrow comes i think of you today all this pain just makes me stronger makes me want to break away as i drift into tomorrow i know things are bound to change and you know i never wanted things to be this way be this way

i've had enough
i give you up
i've had enough
give you up

nother day fades away
listen to it
break me off a new beginning
i flow to the morning after

nother day fades away
listen to it
break me off a new beginning
i flow to the morning after

before tomorrow i will wish we had more time but i know that when i wake up that will be left behind i am listening to our memories they are playing one last song and i'm cruising in my bentley like we never were at all

i've had enough
i give you up
i've had enough
give you up

nother day fades away
listen to it
break me off a new beginning
i flow to the morning after

nother day fades away
listen to it
break me off a new beginning
i flow to the morning after

nother day fades away
listen to it
break me off a new beginning
i flow to the morning after

nother day fades away
listen to it
break me off a new beginning
i flow to the morning after

Written By: Melissa Dori Dye 2005 Meladori Publishing, ASCAP