

Melody Fall, Everything I Breath

Cause everything you are
Is everything I need
There's nothing left to say now
You will see
I don't have time to apologize
Please tell me one more lie
Now let's forget and paint the town red
The perfect way you want me to be
I'm just a number to replace
Your makeup's melting off your face
Please wait and let me say
That everything you are
Is everything I need
I'm giving it all away now
You will see
That everything you are
Is everything I breath
You will see
Don't let the weather here decide
Let's plan it now this time
Now tell me why I should be happy
The perfect way you want me to be
I'm just a number to replace
Your makeup's melting off your face
Please wait and let me say
That everything you are
Is everything I need
I'm giving it all away now
You will see
That everything you are
Is everything I breath
You will see
That everything you are
Is everything I need
I'm giving it all away now
You will see
That everything you are
Is everything I breath
You will see
