

Memento Mori, The Monolith

They sat beneath the moon-lit sky about the night ...appeared, then vanished; wrapped in the woolskin from chill and the ones whose proudest lost thier will to live.

What on Earth, make these for your...
struggling onward through the freezing wind.
A time of storm swept means awoke their hearts of inherited hatred so for evermore these words of old its meaning would soon unfold trapped in that winter world of waiting.

Of what were the questions?
What were they waiting for?
This... at the monolith.

The mystic days of doom foretold in tales
as hammered by some runes
from father to son
forfathers were in tune
at the gallows gate
enchanted by the moon
and a thousand questions about the monolith's make

Eternal moments, endless... its... were seldom spoken therefore the oath was never broken.

At the first sight of peoples he's gone... its meaning,... into the air/earth
From father to son.
