

Menomena, Duel

What if all my enemies were dead and i could forget everything they said could I be then who I really am?

What if I sold everything I own
And ran away from everyone I know could I make another place my home?

And if I let go all of my ghosts
who would I dump over the months?

What if everyone is right?
Should've taken their advice
But I can't change my mind

And if I let go all of my ghosts
who would I dump over the months?

(What if everybody else is right?
should've taken more of their advice)
