

Mercury 4, 5 Years From Now

Tell me what you are;
tell me who you'll be
When the summers gone and all you'll ever need to fall
What you gona do, what you gona do

Will it be someone else's game you're playing?
Why is that you need, tell me about your dream
Tell me when your childish fantasy have blown away
Who's to say you and I are here to stay

Tell me where you be 5 years from now
Will you recognize my face in a crowd?
Tell me where you be 5 years from now
Will you love me, still want me
Tell me about the girl you wanna be
Will there be a place in your heart for me
Tell me where you be 5 years from now
Will you love me, still want me
Say you will, say you will

Holding you tonight, movin' in the dark
Time is moving faster then the world is turning
So I need to know, what is on your mind
The future seems as distant
As the sun that's burning bright
Could it be that I'm, freighted that I might Give it all away for souvenirs of yesterday
Who's to say and I are here to stay

Tell me where you be 5 years from now
Will you recognize my face in a crowd?
Tell me where you be 5 years from now
Will you love me, still want me
Tell me about the girl you wanna be
Will there be a place in your heart for me
Tell me where you be 5 years from now
Will you love me, still want me
Say you will

5 winters have came and gone
And forever don't seem to long
Will you wanna reach out for me?
Or will I be your memory
Coz everything that your not now
I know that I got to stop now
You got to tell me what's up now
Please

Tell me where you be 5 years from now
Will you recognize my face in a crowd?
Tell me where you be 5 years from now
Will you love me, still want me
Tell me about the girl you wanna be
Will there be a place in your heart for me
tell me where you be 5 years from now
Will you love me, still want me

Tell me where you be 5 years from now
Will you recognize my face in a crowd?
Tell me where you be 5 years from now
Will you love me, still want me
Tell me about the girl you want to be
Will there be a place in your heart for me

tell me where you be 5 years from now
Will you love me, still want me

Tell me where you be 5 years from now
Will you recognize my face in a crowd?
Tell me where you be 5 years from now
Will you love me, still want me
Tell me about the girl you want to be
Will there be a place in your heart for me
tell me where you be 5 years from now
Will you love me, still want me

Tell me where you be 5 years from now
