Mercy Drive, Promise

To me-Another lie Cause lies are what you're made of Amuse me-To think that I cant see through what you've become

Now we'll make you a promise I will promise you Time will remember and time will find you And time will turn around everything you've done You will bend in the end

So now the problem here Is me or so you say Distractions-Your way to avoid The blame that you wont take

And I will make you a promise I will promise you Time will remember and time will find you And time will turn around everything you've done You will bend in the end

Time will remember and time will find you And time will turn around everything you've done You will bend in the end

Time will remember and time will find you And time will turn around everything you've done You will burn out in the end
