Mercyful Fate, Castillo Del Mortes (Shermann)

Somewhere in ancient Spain, close to what was BAECULA There lay Castillo Del Mortes To be known as "House Of The Dead" Oh no... Oh not here A fool was playing with magic, magic he did not understand He opened the unholy gates Letting out The Ancient Ones from Hell Solo: S 600 people standing on the castle walls Screaming for mercy, someone must have heard their calls 600 wondering what's going on Two armies in the sky, forming and in battle line Hear the battle cries... 7 cohorts of angels, fighting for The Elders to win 7 cohorst of angels, fighting for the people within The " House Of The Dead" soon to be buried in sin 9 units of demons, The Ancient Ones command 9 units of demons, The Ancient Ones will stand For the " House Of The Dead" will soon be buried in sin Solo: S 600 were watching in horror as they began to fight None of the armies were using a weapon As it is known to man Demons and Angels were falling in numbers Out of the burning sky... The burning sky "Retreat, retreat", Oh the angels flee, "Defeat, defeat" The battle's over, it's done Somewhere in ancient Spain, close to what was BAECULA There lay the battleground where many an angel was slain Solo: S 9 units of demons bringing unbearable sin 9 units of demons coming for the people within The " House Of The Dead" will soon live up to its name 600 people running deep inside 600 people trying to hide From the Ancient Ones But there's nowhere to run on this day Solo: D There is no need to speak of the horrible fate Bestowed upon the 600 from BAECULA (C) 1994 WB Music Corp./Sharp Blade Music/Mercyful Fate Music (ASCAP).
