

Merle Haggard, Come On Into My Arms

So your mama taught you right from wrong and you wouldn't want to disappoint her
But you been lonesome a way too long and what you don't know really won't hurt her
But don't be afraid to get out of the cold come on in where it's warm

Cause you know I wouldn't do you no harm

You've been a running baby from love too long

Forget about your mama think about your daddy come on into my arms

[guitar]

Don't stand there a shivering my arms are secured

Oh baby you look so alone standing there all alone

Just close those big brown eyes so what's in store

And I'll show you things you never known on my own

So your mama taught you..

[ac.guitar]

(Forget about your mama) think about your daddy come on into my arms
