

Merle Haggard, This Song Is Mine

Sometimes songs are done by singers that don't mean them
And at times I've done the same and couldn't sing them
At times I've written songs about some things I didn't do
But these are my words and mine alone these words are true
I've written words in many ways to make them rhyme
And at times I've stolen notes that wadn't mine
Sometimes I changed my style all around to make it new
These are my words and this is my way and it's for you
Cause I love you with all of my heart my soul and my mind
These are my words those notes are mine this song is mine

Cause I love you honey with all of my heart my soul and my mind
These words are mine those notes are mine this song is mine
