

Merril Bainbridge, Goodbye To Day

You walk alone
A different kind of stride from what you've known
And in your eyes there is a knowing
The I've seen before
It must be hard to manage such a life with such a past
But on your face I see it showing
Wow thats just your way
Goodbye to day
Goodbye to everything you say
Goodbye to day
Goodbye to what I thought I knew
How your sky appeared so blue
The sunlight falls and flickers on your hair of golden brown
Yes I remember how it was when we were young
We never knew the line we'd walk was closer to the edge
But I can't stay to watch you fall
Cause thats just my way
Goodbye to day
Goodbye to everything you say
Goodbye to day
Goodbye to what I thought I knew
How your sky appeared so blue
But I never really knew
I thought I'd be the one
To walk where angels never tread
It's you who chose to run
And put your fears to bed
