

Mesh, Rest In Pieces

You're just revisiting the truth
You're making changes to the memories of your youth
So take the day for all it has
You're not the first to cry, though you might just be the last

And you'll rest in pieces
As you watch them go
And you'll rest in pieces
And they'll never know

You're just a shell and nothing more
You're just the shadow passing through a closing door
You'll never live to make it right
So hold your secrets in; don't lose them in the fight

And you'll rest in pieces
As you watch them go

As you watch them go
