

Mesh, Self Healing Lie

I'm just somebody who's got under your skin
Bet you never felt like that
I pushed in my knife and managed to miss
But it never happened like that

You need somebody with feelings that can't get inside your head
You needed patience, the weight of the world in someone else's hands

I'll give you relief
I'll shake your belief
You'll settle any part of me because
I'm your self healing lie
Don't need a reason to watch you die
I'm just a body that stepped inside

Untied beneath and feeling small
Inside it seems like nothing at all

I'll give you relief
I'll shake your belief
You'll settle for any part of me because
I'm your self healing lie
Don't need a reason to watch you die
I'm just a body that stepped inside
