

Mest, Chance Of A Lifetime

the end of the worlds in front of me. hard to believe all i see.
it comes so close but pulls away to let me stay another day.
it's one chance in your lifetime, but it won't be the last time.
it seems there's always the next hill to climb.
and you know there's a lifetime.
the things that i see never end, tricking my mind to just pretend.
i understand what's happening when others doubt you still believe.
it's one chance in your lifetime, but it won't be the last time.
i swear there's always a next hill to climb.
changing what i once thought.
letting go of what i once fought.
there's a life that you need to find.
all that surfaced has changed my mind.
the end of the world's in front of me, hard to believe all i see.
it's one chance in your lifetime, but it won't be the last time.
i swear there's always a next hill to climb and you know there's a lifetime.
