

Michael Cretu, The Invisible Man

How can you be so close to the stranger
I wonder if he knows you, does he care?
Now the loving between us is in danger
Tell me how can we ever give up all we share?

The invisible man waits deep in your heart
And he won't let me in whatever I do
The invisible man waits deep in your heart
And we never enough
Now he's a part of you too

Tell me the reason why do you need him?
We said we could never tell a lie
And now when I ask you "Is it love you believe in?"
You can't find an answer, you don't even try

The invisible man waits deep in your heart
And he won't let me in whatever I do
The invisible man waits deep in your heart
And we never enough
Now he's a part of you too
