

Michael Learns To Rock, How Many Hours

Mothers giving birth to a little son crying in the rain of falling bombs Father he is young but deep and wise
You see the fighter inside his eyes
Hold me cover my sight

This is no paradise
Dont show me
the evil sides of the world

Chorus:

How many hours and how many days
love is just slipping away
How many seasons and how many years
in tears

How many centuries and how many lives in fear

People selling flowers like nothings going on turning their backs on a world gone wrong Children play around I guess they found some wheels
You see them running down the naked fields

Hold me cover my sight
This is no paradise

Dont show me
the evil sides of the world

Chorus:

How many hours and how many days
love is just slipping away
How many seasons and how many years
in tears

How many centuries and how many lives
in fear
