

Michael Nesmith, Born To Love You

Born to love you
Born to love you
Born to share your smiles and tears
Born to be here if you need me, dear
Born to love you till I die

My life was empty
So blue and forlorn
And then you put your hand in mine
I know why I was born

Born to love you
Born to love you
Born to share your smiles and tears
Born to be here if you need me, dear
Born to love you till I die

My life was empty
So blue and forlorn
Then you put your hand in mine
I knew why I was born

Born to love you
Born to love you
Born to share your smiles and tears
Born to be here if you need me, dear
Born to love you till I die
Born to love you till I die
