Michael Nesmith, Only Bound

Oh my lonely world Only world I see Oh my wilting world Tilting world and me

Clinging to a vine of promises Grown from her nobility When she and her gentle hand Were only bound to me

She was only bound Only bound to me I was always around Crawling around on my knees

Tales of time Slowly set me free Paths unwind In lonely harmony

Now I'm holding hands Folding hands to see Waving hazy plans Drifting sands and me

Clinging to a vine of promises Grown from her nobility When she and her gentle hand Were only bound to me

When she and her gentle hand Were only bound to me

She was the only world Only world I see
