

Michael W. Smith, Worth It All

Sometimes I wonder what it's like to be Living life on the other side please don't Make me feel like I don't know what's out there proof is written in the sky hey won't you listen to me now it makes no difference if I wish upon a star the only absolute is that the word of life is written on my heart oh I believe yes, I believe

Hey look at me, living life for you When it's good, when it's hard you know me, you know my heart, yea, yea, yea, I give up anything at all, when you call all I know it's worth it all

I know you're scared to let me know you I know you got a heavy kind of soul and I know it's harder to believe in love when you're feeling all alone they're taking bets on who the lover of your soul and your heart is gonna be they're taking on all the things that get you down and out the moment you believe I believe in you Yes I believe in you
