

Michal, The Best Way

This once was a huge mirror
But it fell to pieces
No matter how it's rearranged
It won't reflect your face again
I found out way too late
That if I wait my turn
I'll never get to try
For we all live and die

Chorus:

And now I know
The best way to kill
The ones you love
Is to let them disappear
Never step on the inside
Of a sterile building
The walls are thick and gray
The windows look the same

Our world of plastic bubbles
Shields us from the air
The nature is what sings
Straight lines are godless things
Repeat chorus
It makes me sad to know that
What we had meant nothing
No matter what I say
You won't care anyway
I sit here in the corner
Fending off the end
But life will pass me by
For we all live and die
And now I know that the best way
To kill the ones you love
Is to let them go
