

Michelle Branch, It's Always Been You

I missed the bus and thought of you
Imagined you sitting next to me
Stood in the cold and didn't move
Until the bus came finally

Oh it's you
The light changes when you're in the room
Oh it's you
Oh it's you

Wrote a song there in my head
As I was walking in the rain,
I thought about the way you make me feel
I didn't know things would be this way

Oh it's you
The light changes when you're in the room
Oh it's you
Oh it's you

Oh it's you
The light changes when you're in the room
Oh it's you
Oh it's you

I wanna hold you in my arms
And make you fall for me once more
Though something inside tells me I can't
I can't trust myself any more

Oh it's you
I remember when you loved me too
Oh it's you
It's always been you
