

Michelle Branch, My Holy Death Day

Why did my life have to be like this did god have to make it like this it aint fair the tough life in Philly i know it really sounds silly then i wint to NY the place with the big apple and there i drank a lot of Snapple when i went to Florida the place with all the sunshine made me think about this friggin life of mine

(Chorus)

That day my doctor pulled the cord is the day the world praised to the lord it was the best day of their lives i dan't know why my parents didn't kill me the day i was born they hated me right from the start
my holy death day

when i was 9 i ran away from home went to all those places and more fust like i told i wint to Philly it was cool i'd stay there forever if i could i went to Juvi when i was 10 just cuz i stole some stuff from some men im sick or every one tellin me to fump off a bridge gress i just need some help

(Chorus)

The day my doctor pulled the cord is the day the world praised the lord
it was the best day of their lives
i don't know why my parents didn't kill me the day i was born
my holy death day

my holy death day
it was the best day of their lives it was just what they were waiting for i was watching them party bout my death from hill i was made fun of all my life i tried to commit suicide a bunch of times but every friggin time someone had to save me

(Chorus)

the dat my doctor pulls the cord
is the day the world praised the lord
it was the best day of their lives
i don't know why my parents didn't kill me the day i was born
my holy death day

don't know why my friggin parents didn't kill me on that day i was born they hated me rite from the start
my holy death day
