

Michelle Branch, Standing On The Edge

I'm not asking for much
But I need a little time to find
What it is I want
And is it you this time

I wish that I knew you better
I wish that I knew myself
I want it to be forever
But now I see it's only me

Standing on the edge of the world
And I don't want you to catch me
I want you to let me
Stand up here and walk on my own
I can't learn to love you if you're all I know

Suddenly wait there across the parking lot
October never felt so cold
You were looking for
All the things you know I'm not
And believe me I've tried I've tried, oh...

I thought that I knew you better
Than I knew myself

Standing on the edge of the world
And I don't want you to catch me
I want you to let me
Stand up here and walk on my own
I can't learn to love you if you're all I know

Oh oh, oh oh
Don't let it change your mind
Oh, oh
On and on and on and on

Standing on the edge of the world
And I don't want you to catch me
I want you to let me
Stand up here and walk on my own
I can't learn to love you, oh
I can't learn to love you, oh
I can't learn to love you if you're all I know
