

Michelle Gurevich, Almost Shared a Lifetime

I caught your glance
A time exact
And it led me down a path

How close we came
To a different fate
A million miles away

Slight is the motion
That ripples the ocean
And guides your whole life through

Chance are the moments
That lead to a romance
But not for me and you

Darling you and I
Almost shared a lifetime
Just as easily
Could have been you and me

Darling you and I
Almost shared a lifetime
Just as easily
Could have been you and me

Like ants we crawl
One takes a fall
With no reason at all

Your eyes meet mine
It's like we might
As well have shared a lifetime

Slight is the motion
That ripples the ocean
And guides your whole life through

Chance are the moments
That lead to a romance
But not for me and you

Darling you and I
Almost shared a lifetime
Just as easily
Could have been you and me
