

Michelle Shocked, Go In Peace

You're looking for peace
But it can't be found
You know it's true
Peace finds you

It finds you in the cold and the dark and the lonely and the filled with despair
It finds you in the sick and the dying and the hurt and the crying of tears
It finds you in the battle and the fighting, deep in the valley of fear
And pain may never cease but I believe we go in peace

You're looking for love
Looks like you found it
It's right here right now
I think we're surrounded

So lift your hands high and surrender to It's power and might Give in to it's grace and it's glory, a shining and beautiful light
Now lay down your armor, your hurt, your anger, your fright
Reach out for peace, discover you're already in the arms of love
