Michelle Wright, Broken

Thank God for these sunglasses That hide my eyes and keep these tears from showin' If I don't get home soon I'm gonna run into you somewhere I just know it I just know it

You pulled the rug right out from under me Now it's one day at a time An uphill climb

CHORUS:

I'm broken but I'm holdin' on It's over but it's just the dark before the dawn And I know before too long That broken will be whole again I know I'm gonna get back on my feet and then I won't be broken Broken

I'm workin' nine to nine Then I try to eat and find some time for sleepin' And on the weekend It's just me and way more TV than I'm needin'

You pulled the wool right over my eyes Now my world is upside down But still goin' round

CHORUS

Sometimes it seems just like it's gonna take forever For the pain to finally end For the healing to begin Sometimes I feel like I'm this far from feelin' better A quiet from within Almost new again

CHORUS (2x)
