

Microbunny, Green Stars

You came walking through the door
Just as if you'd left it open
I was busy trying to ignore
The tell-tale signs of missing
Of missing you

And I'll find time to look over everything
And I'll find time to get over everything

There's a photo I found warping
Two sunburnt faces look out smiling
I'm much taller in real life
The camera angle only seeing one side

And I'll find time to look over everything
And I'll find time to get over everything
And I'll find time to look over everything
And I'll find time