Midasuno, A Machine - The Rhythm Thief

My body shakes like the cables tonight The sides are splitting in mono it's alright Drenched in the breeze of a dusk kiss

Take revenge so let us bury the textbook Flood the crowd and a sea of the weak all scream I'm not foreign to the scent of anger

With a blow to the head With these words it's gonna disconnect With a jolt to the heart With these words we're gonna fall apart

You're sleeping with the machine I'm the rhythm thief 'Cause I'm a fucking machine I'm the rhythm thief

We simply cannot introspect any deeper Without the aid of a gallery of mirrors Stutter to the song of the Latah

A character assassination failed With every orbit there's emotion sickness It's taking my breath away

Where do we raise our weapons?
