

Midnight Fall, All The Things I'd Like To Say To...

Will it make it out the day we want it to or are the tracks in the mail again?
Can you tell the truth? or do you want to keep on playing games?
Dont push the blame on someone else you did it, I get it, you think it's funny is this what you wanted to happen?
Do you have any idea what you have gotten yourself into?
contemplate the consequences if you could only just comprehend that I am serious dont think, don't breathe, just get ready to go black shirt, blue jeans, and you're off to the show try to play it off like it's not you try to play the game but we are through dont push the blame on someone else
you did it, i get it, you think it's funny
is this what you wanted to happen?
do you have any idea what you have gotten yourself into?
and it all falls down right on me
but I cant take the blame for your indecision and within one hour
the tables turn just to be thrown back at me these dice are loaded, cant you see you put up a good fight but nobody fucks with us and gets away with it with every song I write, I speak your name in vain
