

Midtown, Just Rock & Roll

you can never tell me i shouldn't walk away its foolish to assume that ill be coming back another day you were never right and i was never wrong does truth lie in sincerity of another sullen song cause you were right then i should have been the one to release it its coming back to tease me but i was just born and you're pride was too strong can you change it?
are you willing to face it? you can tell your story and coat it any way but you will never change who you trying to play now your friends are falling out they know you just don't care they know you never did because they say always the first one is never as good as the next. hey, it's just rock and roll even though you might think you lost it all. cause the times they are a changin and who can predict what's next hey, you lost control even though you might have thought you had it all and hey, it's just rock and roll and i'll never change i love it just the same i'll never change because i love it just the same god i wish i could hate you the rest of my life god i wish i could hate you for the rest of my nothing would make me happier
