

Mike Posner, Song About You

put all your stuff in a box in my room I don't wanna write no song about you but you show up in everything that I do since you've been gone ain't got nothing to do I sleep until noon

I wake up and feel bad I think I miss something I never had

I just wanna unwind, unwind everything that makes me feel confined something I hate sunshine

now it's a cold war who will call first?
try to be productive at work,
I just can't I miss you a lot but I ain't coming back

I just wanna unwind, unwind

but you show up in everything that I do all your love letters and a pair of Ray-Bans I'm growing my beard moving back in my van your side of the bed still smells like you though and these memories of us it's brutal you know /2x exactly how I feel we woke up but you be on my mind still and the worst type of sadness you could have is when you miss something that doesn't miss you back

but you show up in everything that I do
