

Miles Kane, Taking Over

Life's never easy
It keeps you guessing as you go
Don't be looking at the scenery
You should be heading up the road

Hey brother, can you sell me some?
I think I'm brewing up a storm
I'm smiling at the radio
They think I'm heading for a fall

But now she's taking over
(Taking over)
I think she's taking over me
I bet she's taking over
(Taking over)
She's really got a hold on me

Tears will flow
But we'll never know
Till we try
Till we try

We have travelled the roads
Gone from kisses to blows
Only heaven knows
Where this story goes

Deep into the pages
My life's an open book
What to do and where to go?
I need to take another look
To be unfashionably outrageous
A new insanity for my neighbours
It's surprisingly contagious

But now she's taking over
I think she's taking over me
I bet she's taking over
(Taking over)
She's really got a hold on me

Tears will flow
But we'll never know
Till we try
Till we try

We have travelled the roads
Gone from kisses to blows
Only heaven knows
Where this story goes

But now she's taking over
(Taking over)
I think she's taking over me
I bet she's taking over
(Taking over)
She's really got a hold on me

But now she's taking over
I think she's taking over me
I bet she's taking over
(Taking over)
She's really got a...
She's really got a...

...hold on me!
