

Milk Inc., Maybe (Ft. Regie)

Just another day,
I'm wondering through the city trying to find my way,
But I see you,
And every stranger that walks by,
They all seem to ask me why,
But I don't know,
If there's a cure,
To stop me from feeling insecure,
I just want to be sure that,
Maybe,
Your better off without me,
Maybe,
Things will turn out for the best,
But how can I be sure,
What the future holds in store,
If you only knew that maybe I love you.

Just another word,
To tell the same old story I've already heard,
No one knows,
Why I've been acting so strangely,
They all should just let me be.
Cause I don't know if there's a cure,
Just stop me from feeling insecure,
I just want to be sure that,
Maybe,
Your better off without me,
Maybe,
Things will turn out for the best,
But how can I be sure,
What the future holds in store,
If you only knew that maybe,
I love you.

Drifting out of sight,
I chased the same old shadows every day and night.

But I hear you,
Your footsteps echo around me,
They still haven't found me though.

I look around,
But your not there,
Are we still going anywhere?
Do you even care?

Are you around that corner?

Am I getting warmer?

Are you on your way?

Can I find the words to say that?
Maybe,
Your better off without me,
Maybe,
Things will turn out for the best,
But how can I be sure,
What the future holds in store,
If you only knew that maybe,
I love you.
