

Mindy McCready, Sacrifice

Sometimes I get scared afraid somehow your heart has had it
I try to pretend I understand just how we made it
My highs and lows and in-betweens
Don't come close even at extremes
To the distance you have climbed and reached for me

That a sacrifice, your love's a sacrifice
Unselfish uncompromised, surrendering your love for life
I give you all my heart, and still I fall short far
From your sacrifice

You hold my hand, you carry me and walk behind or lead you do it all
You give me your best til nothing's left, then you find more
Your courage, faith and mercy

Mold and bend around my dreams
Lift up and deliver me again

That a sacrifice, your love's a sacrifice
Unselfish uncompromised, surrendering your love for life
I give you all my heart, and still I fall short far
From your sacrifice

A sacrifice, your love's a sacrifice
Unselfish uncompromised, surrendering your love for life
I give you all my heart, and still I fall short far
From your sacrifice
Your sacrifice