

Miranda Lambert, Lyin' Here

I love you, more than you'll ever know.
And I miss you, more than I care to show.
I'll get better at pretending nothing's wrong.
It's easy, when you're always all alone.

Lately, I see leavin in your eyes.
So nothing you say, will come as a surprise.
You don't even have to try to be sincere.
Just go on, and leave me lyin' here.

And I'll tell my heart,
You didn't cause it to break.
And I'll tell my mind,
That I'm the one that made the mistake.
And I'll tell my eyes,
They don't even have to cry one tear.
Just go on and leave me lyin' here.

So go on, and find you someone new.
I'll make sure that I end the fool.
And maybe someday, I'll begin to make it clear.
You're the one who left me lyin' here.

And I'll tell my heart,
You didn't cause it to break.
And I'll tell my mind,
That I'm the one that made the mistake.
And I'll tell my eyes,
They don't even have to cry one tear.
Just go on and leave me lyin' here.

Just walk away and leave me lyin' here.
