Moby, Evening Rain

I can't stand to see the morning come While the evening rain's still falling I can't stand to see the morning come While the evening rain's still falling I can't stand to see the morning come While the evening rain's still falling Like the day Saw the same All the problems I follow I run away Saw the plane The grey life Tomorrow But I can't stand to see the morning come While the evening rain's still falling But I can't stand to see the morning come While the evening rain's still falling I close my eyes It doesn't work I can hear tomorrow I can't stand to see the morning come While the evening rain's still falling I can't stand to see the morning come While the evening rain's still falling I can't stand to see the morning come While the evening rain's still falling
